MISS AUGUSTA T. DANIEL
DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESSWas Widely Known as an Educator and Shakespearean Scholar—Funeral This Afternoon

Miss Augusta Tabb Daniel, for many years closely identified with the intellectual and social life of Richmond, died yesterday morning at the Chestnutfield Apartment House, 400 West Franklin Street, following a protracted illness. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Second Presbyterian Church, Rev. Russell Cress, D. D., pastor of the church, will officiate.

The following will act as pallbearers: James T. Tabb, Lightfoot, Jr., Thomas Cameron, Edith Bonham, Gordon Blair, Condon Sutton, J. H. Chamberlain, and Percy Montague.

Miss Daniel, who devoted practically all her life to educational work, was well known in Richmond as a teacher and for her rare culture and intimate knowledge of the English classics. As a Shakespearean scholar, she is said to have had few superiors. For a number of years, she conducted a school for her own, in association with one of her sisters, and was later connected with the John Fawcett School.

In addition to her intellectual attainments, she was a woman of peculiarly charming character. Her gentle disposition and retiring influence meant much to the large circle of friends with which she came in contact during her life here.

Miss Daniel was the daughter of the late T. Daniel, who was one of the most distinguished lawyers in the State. She is survived by one brother, Captain R. Travis Daniel.

WASHINGTON WINS

Water Competition No Longer Entertains
Richmond to Lower Community
Rates from North

Authority to continue lower community rates to Fredericksburg, Richmond and Petersburg than to Washington city on traffic from Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other Eastern points was denied yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Those rates originally were established by railroads to meet water competition, but the commission finds that the competition does not warrant the continuance of rates to those points lower than the rates to Washington.

APPEAL IS GRANTED IN
NORTHAMPTON CASESupreme Court to Review Litigation
Between Fertilizer Company
and Its Agent

An appeal and supersedeas was granted by Judge Keith, of the State Supreme Court of Appeals, yesterday to G. Aber &amp; Sons Co., Inc., of Baltimore, who appealed from a decree of the Circuit Court of Northampton County, rendered on January 25, 1916. The petitioners brought a suit in chancery in this court against William G. Smith, Inc., but the decree referred to denied them the relief sought.

In the statement of the case filed with the Supreme Court, it is set forth that the petitioners are manufacturers and distributors of fertilizers, and that the defendant, Smith, was their local distributor at Cape Charles. In disposing of the product locally, Smith sold for cash or took notes payable after the crops were harvested.

The petitioners claim that Smith gave up his agency at Cape Charles and accepted employment in Florida while still owing them a considerable sum in uncollected notes and other debts. A total of $1,079.15 is claimed. The Circuit Court at Northampton entered a decree allowing Smith to make substantial deductions from this sum, and from this decree the petitioners appealed. In granting an appeal and supersedeas Judge Keith fixed the bond at $500.

Another appeal and supersedeas was granted by Judge Keith to L. C. Triplett, Whitehorse Triplett and L. C. Triplett. The petitioners appealed from a judgment of the Circuit Court of Culpeper County in favor of the Second National Bank of Culpeper. The judgment is for $156.16, with interest from June 27, 1912. The bank claims this sum on a note executed by L. C. Triplett and signed as accommodation indorsers by the other two petitioners. The Supreme Court required bond in the sum of $1,100.

MAYOR RECEIVES REPORT
ON EVERY MOVIE FILMAinslie Says No Film Excluded Elsewhere Has Ever Been Shown in Richmond.

BOSTON PLAN FOLLOWED HERE

Every Manager Files in Advance
Certificate From Censors in State
Where Film Was Manufactured.
Would Withdraw Doubtful Films.

"No film that has been excluded elsewhere has ever been shown in Richmond," said Mayor George Ainslie yesterday, discussing the proposed censorship of the movies. The Mayor said that every motion picture that comes to Richmond is censored before it reaches here; that a report on every picture is received by the Mayor prior to the production here of the film and that in the case of every doubtful picture, a censor is detailed from the Police Department to pass upon its merits or demerits.

"When the statement was made here that six motion pictures were announced for production in Richmond, that would not be allowed in Chicago, I sent the announcements for that particular week to Chief of Police Healy of Chicago," said the Mayor.

"He had a man make a report upon them. The plays had been censored, and fault had been found with two of them, not on the grounds you would naturally expect here in Richmond, but because of some crime, a shooting, or a murder."

"These two pictures, or scenes, in two of the six films were cut out in Chicago and, thus, censored, the pictures were shown here in Richmond."

"Chicago has a large population of the class that breeds criminals. Consequently they will not allow there films which show a burglary, or black-mail, or murder, or a man breaking his way out of prison through prison bars. They think such pictures are an education in criminal matters and tend to excite crime. That is why they are excluded or censored."

RICHMOND FOLLOWS

THE BOSTON PLAN

"We pursue the same method here in Richmond as they do in Boston. All the pictures are censored by regularly appointed State boards wherever they are made. A report of each picture is sent and no theater manager would think of presenting one without the censorship of the board of censors. It might cost him his license in some cities, like Boston, for instance, where the bureau that grants the theater licenses, which is attached to the Mayor's office, has the authority to revoke a license. An appeal may be taken from this action to some regularly appointed tribunal, but theater managers do not care to run such risks, according to my experience."

"If there is a film on any picture after it is presented, although approved by the board of censors, a man is sent to inspect it. We do that here, only once or twice, and that was while I was out of the city, has any theatrical manager been asked to withdraw a film, and that was at the request of the Chief of Police, who did so to oblige some women. The manager was perfectly willing to comply with the request."

"It should be borne in mind that the theater is a place of public entertainment and not for religious instruction or education. I dare say that no picture could be presented here but that some fault would be found with it by someone. It is strange that we learn now that 'The Black Crook,' which has been on the stage forty years and 'A Parisian Romance,' which has been on the stage for twenty, are now regarded as immoral."

I GAVE MY DOLLAR—DID YOU?

Richmond Automobile Club Launches
Move to Complete Richmond-
Washington Highway.

To complete the stretch of Washington-Richmond highway lying between Dumfries and Occoquan, officials and members of the Richmond Automobile Club are attempting to sell 10,000 buttons at $1 each. President Robert B. Alport, former President Claude L. Watkins and Secretary E. C. Pelouze are acting as a special committee to sell the buttons, which have his inscription: "I gave my dollar—did you?" To help complete the Richmond-Washington highway.

It is estimated that it will take $10,000 to complete this stretch of road, and then there will be an excellent highway from Richmond to Washington, top 122 miles in length. Terrains are said to make the rest of the trip all right, but that when they strike this short strip in bad weather it is practically impassable.

An effort was made to get the Washington club to assist in putting the road through, but up until this morning nothing but promises has been received, and the local club decided to go ahead and, if possible, complete the work during the coming summer.

CROSS-WARRANTS

William Jackson, Colored, and William
Wyatt to Air Grievances Before Magistrate Sunday.

William Jackson, colored, and William Wyatt, both of whom live in the vicinity of Glen Allen, are expected to appear before Magistrate H. S. Sunday, of Henrico, to-morrow morning on countercharges of trespass and assault. The negro alleges that Wyatt slapped and otherwise maltreated him, and the white man declares that Jackson is guilty of trespassing on his property.

According to the story told by the negro, Wyatt became very angry when asked for the wages due Jackson for the hire of his fourteen-year-old boy, and proceeded to express his feelings by slapping the man in the face.

Wyatt says the man was impudent, and wound up by doubling his veracity. Then followed the blow in the face. The negro, he says, was trespassing anyway.

ON MOTOR TRIP

Editor of Manufacturers' Record Stops
Here on Way from Florida.

Richard H. Edmunds, editor of the Manufacturers' Record, Mr. Edmunds and Mr. Edmunds's sister, Miss Mary E. Edmunds, reached Richmond last evening on a 1000-mile motor trip from Baltimore. They were accompanied by Mr. Edmunds's secretary, Howard L. Clark, and Mrs. Clark, who have been with them during the winter. They will remain over in Richmond for the night and leave for their motor trip Thursday morning.

Governor Shows Up
a Month Too SoonMisreads Speaking Engagement at Harrisonburg, but Believes Wilson Will Be Elected.Opposite May 18, on the Governor's engagement book, is entered "Rockingham County Farmers' Association," indicating that the Governor has agreed to speak before that organization on that date.

But in some manner, yet to be explained, Governor Stuart got the impression Monday that he was booked to speak before this body in Harrisonburg, April 18. His suspicions were confirmed by a report in a afternoon paper Monday, which gave April 18 as the date of his Harrisonburg address.

Thereupon, the Governor boarded a train, and yesterday morning bright and early found him in Rockingham's capital. But the farmers were busy with their spring plowing, and there was nobody to address, but the local politicians and newspaper men who crowded the hotel lobby gleefully when they learned of the Governor's unexpected arrival.

To these Governor Stuart admitted that he believed the presidential contest this year will be between Roosevelt and Wilson. He believed further that prosperous business conditions, Roosevelt's thorough country, and land Woodrow Wilson back in the White House.

The Governor took his wild-goose chase good naturedly. It was something to be thirty days ahead of time, and he will make use of the trip by making an inspection of the State time-grinding plant at Staunton before returning to Richmond.

PASSENGER EXPERTS
HERE FOR CONFERENCEBi-Monthly Meeting of Southeastern Association Takes Place
at Hotel Jefferson.

The various sub-committees of the Southeastern Passenger Association, comprising representatives from all the railroads east of the Mississippi and south of the Potomac River, convened at the Jefferson Hotel yesterday morning for a conference that is to last three days. The work of the committees yesterday extended through two sessions, morning and afternoon, and last evening the various members of the committees met and discussed matters that are to come before the regular meetings to-day and to-morrow.

Secretary W. H. Howard, of Atlanta, is present and is getting the work in shape for the sessions of to-morrow, which is a bi-monthly meeting. It was brought to Richmond this time through the efforts of J. A. Higgins, assistant passenger agent of the West Point Route, of Atlanta. Mr. Higgins is a former Richmond man and at last meeting of the association, in Jacksonville, he suggested Richmond as the next meeting place.

The work of the association is not one of general public interest, and is seldom any news of importance to be given out. "It is merely a bi-monthly conference of representatives of the various roads and the things discussed are methods for saving money and getting the same results at a smaller outlay," stated Secretary Howard last night.

Joseph Richmond, Atlanta, is chairman of the association. C. D. Wayne is superintendent of the tariff department. All of these officers are railroaders and are not connected with any railroad. They work for the interests of all the roads that are members of the association.

Members of the subcommittees present yesterday and last night were: J. A. Higgins, assistant passenger agent, of the West Point Route, Atlanta, Ga.; W. W. Croxton, general passenger agent, A. B. and A. Railway, Atlanta; A. Becker, general passenger agent, and S. N. Allen, assistant general passenger agent, of the Queen and Crescent Route, of Cincinnati; J. C. Haulle, general passenger agent, of the Central of Georgia Railway, Savannah, Ga.; J. D. Ralston, general passenger agent, Florida East Coast Railway, St. Augustine, Fla.; C. B. Rhodes, general passenger agent, the G. H. and F. Railway, Macon, Ga.; J. V. Lanigan, assistant general passenger agent of the Illinois Central Railway, Chicago, Ill.; M. Womack, assistant general passenger agent, the L. H. and T. Railway, Louisville, Ky.; R. D. Pusey, general passenger agent, and C. D. Clarke, of the Louisville and Nashville Railway, Louisville, Ky.; W. L. Danley, general passenger agent, and W. J. Lightfoot, assistant general passenger agent, of the N. C. and St. L. Railway, Nashville, Tenn.; H. L. Leard, general passenger agent, Norfolk and Southern Railway; W. P. Taylor, general manager, the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, Richmond; P. C. Allen, general passenger agent, and H. D. Boynton, of the Southern Railway, Washington, D. C.; C. B. Ryan, general passenger agent, and W. L. McMorris, of the Seaboard Air Line Railway.

It is expected that some thirty-five more officials will arrive in the city to-day and take part in the conference. It was stated last night that only routine matters will be attended to, and that there is no special significance attached to the gathering.

SUIT AGAINST LEO KIDD

Evidence Is Partly Heard in Claim of Mother of Pauline Thorp.

Evidence introduced by the plaintiff was completed yesterday in the Hustings Court, Part II, before Judge Ernest H. Wells in the trial of the suit for $10,000 damages brought against Leo Kidd and the Richmond Transfer Company by Mrs. Nellie H. Thorp, administratrix of the estate of Pauline Thorp. The case will probably go to the jury to-morrow.

Mrs. Thorp, in her declaration, charges that Miss Pauline Thorp, her daughter, died from injuries received when Kidd's automobile, in which she was a passenger, collided with one of the Richmond Transfer Company's automobiles at the corner of Belvidere and Grace Streets. Kidd was convicted in the Hustings Court of involuntary manslaughter in connection with this case, receiving a jail sentence.

Fined $5 for Shooting.

James Anderson, the negro boy who shot William Garland Luck, 1215 North Twenty-first Street, in the hip several weeks ago at the new Carnegie Library Heights, was fined $5 and costs in the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court yesterday, when he entered a plea of self-defense. He claimed that Kidd's automobile had been rocking him shortly before the shooting. Anderson was pursued by a large crowd after he had run into a tree and knocked himself senseless.

ALDERMEN CONCUR IN
$2,000,000 BOND ISSUEProvides Funds for Extensive Public Improvements in Many Sections.

PAYS OFF BIG FLOATING DEBT

Shoekoe Creek Improvement to Take $300,000—Fund of $50,000 Provided for Paving Sidewalks and Alleys—Gas and W. Extension.

Without debate the Board of Aldermen, in special session last night, concurred in the ordinance authorizing a bond issue of $2,000,000 for permanent city improvements. The bonds, which will be dated January 1, 1916, will bear 4 per cent interest, and their life is for a period of thirty-four years. The board, with only ten members present, was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock. Alderman Fuller wanted to know for what purpose the item of $25,000 in the appropriations for the North Dock Street improvement would be put to, thinking, he said, that the council had already appropriated all the money needed for this work. Chairman Grundy, of the Finance Committee, stated in answer to question that the Council had only appropriated $25,000 for this improvement, and that the remaining $25,000 covered by the bond issue was to complete the work.

TAKES UP DEBT ON

FIRST REGIMENT ARMY. The item of $25,275 for other permanent public buildings and permanent improvements also caused Mr. Fuller to make inquiry as to the probable expenditure of the money. He was advised by Colonel Grundy that the Council, of which $135,000 was for the First Regiment Army, and the remainder for schools. Of the $25,275 in the new bond issue there only remained $75,000, which the Council would allot, said Colonel Grundy. Alderman Gust, of Lee Ward, desired to know what assurance there was that the $25,000 appropriated in 1915 for the school's Lake improvement would complete the work, saying that he would vote for the issue if that amount completed the project, but that he was tired of appropriating money for this undertaking.

Mr. Paul protested against the issuance of bonds. Interest on the outstanding obligations, he said, would cost the city more than $1,000,000 next year. He thought the time had come when the city should live within its income and should not be continually making bond issues. Chairman Grundy replied that it was necessary for the growth of the city, and that when improvements were stopped, the city ceased to grow.

CITY SECURES MONEY

AT MUCH LOWER RATE. "I have some figures that might be interesting," said Colonel Grundy. "In 1909 the city's bonded charges were 21 per cent of its income, while now are only 21 per cent. This was not caused altogether by economy, as we now secure our money at a lower rate."

The bond issue, as recommended by the Finance Committee and as adopted by both branches of the Council, makes the following appropriations:

Public schools, buildings and sites, $552,755; Binford School addition, $50,000; Colored Normal School site, $25,000; Water Works, Bume, including right of way, $100,000; Water Works, including $100,000; construction of sewerage, $200,000; Shoekoe Creek, $500,000; North Dock Street improvements, $25,000; purchase of Vestig property, $20,000; Phillips property, $15,000; city storehouse, $35,000; Second Police Station, $25,000; Gas works, mains and improvements, $100,000; Electric Light Plant, $50,000; sidewalk construction and alley improvements, $50,000; improvement of Marshall Park, $10,000; improvement of Shields Lake, $25,000; other permanent public buildings and permanent improvements, $257,275, and survey annexed territory, $25,000.

RECEIVES FEW REQUESTS
FOR PROHIBITION LAWExtra Copies Ordered Printed Remain
Unmolested in Office of State
Printer, Davis Bottom.

Apparently the citizens of the State do not find the details of the prohibition law as absorbingly interesting as prohibition leaders believed they would. It is on this basis that it is possible to explain why State Superintendent of Public Printer Davis Bottom has received requests for less than 1,000 of the 20,000 copies of the App bill that the General Assembly ordered printed.

Furthermore, most of the 1,000 were supplied to Rev. J. Sidney Peters, Commissioner of Prohibition, Senator Walter Mapp, patron of the bill, and to the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and similar organizations. Unless there is an awakening of public interest in the law that will on November 1 makes Virginia "dry," most of the 20,000 copies of the dry law will yellow with age and finally move away in some basement room of the Capitol.

The experience with the reprints of this law is not uncommon. At every session the General Assembly orders the printing of thousands of copies of special bills, which are never distributed. The Public Printer must follow literally every resolution of this kind, even though most people are content to wait until the acts are printed to see the new legislation. The last Legislature ordered also 1,000 extra copies of the appropriation and muster bills, as well as the same number of copies of numerous revenue measures. Most of these reprints will ultimately find place in the growing mausoleum of reprints never distributed. The cost of the 20,000 copies of the App bill, Mapp bill alone will be about $150. Sections of the Acts of 1916 are being supplied by the printers daily. Mr. Bottom said yesterday that the volume will be complete in about thirty days.

BOZMAN ARRESTED

Charged With Being Fugitive from
King and Queen County Authorities.

J. C. Bozman was arrested yesterday morning by Special Policemen Readley of Henrico, on a warrant sworn out by Sheriff Sydney charging him with being a fugitive from justice. It had been ascertained by the county authorities that Bozman had been indicted by the grand jury of the King and Queen County Court on the charge of stealing a piano from the A. J. Crafts Piano Company. He is being held in the Henrico Jail, pending orders from the King and Queen County authorities.

Scout Strang Goes

aire Owner of Curle's Neck
at New York Home.

If fourteen-year-old Frank Strang makes good in the effects of K. G. Billings, New York multi-millionaire and owner of Curle's Neck Farm, he stands a chance to be adopted, and thereby to become a rich man himself. (Or he is not adopted he may receive the best education money will afford and then, perhaps, he "set up" in a business of his own choosing.)

Frank is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Strang, of 219 North Thirty-sixth Street, and is somewhat of a soldier of fortune and has run away from home as far south as Danville, being a Boy Scout, though, he was able to take care of himself and his parents were not much worried about him.

His parents allowed him to visit Curle's Neck Farm, after his return from Danville, and there he met Mr. Billings, who became very much interested in him. Sunday night, in company with Mr. Patterson, Frank left for New York to pay Mr. Billings a visit. He is to remain away all summer and, perhaps, through the winter.

His mother said that while she hated to give him up, she felt confident it was for his best interests, and was willing for him to receive the education, provided Mr. Billings wished to give it to him. She said she wasn't worried about the lad, as she felt sure he could take care of himself under almost any condition.

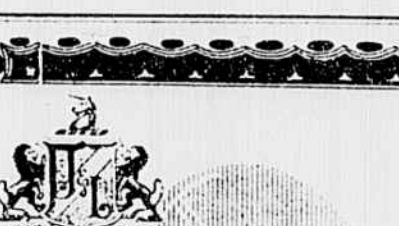

Frank achieved a reputation as a scout when, during the reunion, he saved a Confederate veteran from what might have been serious injury. The incident occurred at Camp Stuart last year. The soldier had a box of powder in his hand when it became ignited. Frank, who was near, clapped the box from the veteran's hand. He received minor burns himself.

HOBSON IS SEATED

Takes Lively Interest in Routine Business Coming Before Administrative Board.

With a simple introduction by City Clerk Ben T. August, Graham B. Hobson yesterday morning took his seat in the Administrative Board. Mr. Hobson was greeted by Chairman John Hirschberg and the other members of the board, and the business of the day was begun. Mr. Hobson took a lively interest in the proceedings, but, it being his first day in office, did not initiate any matter.

Mr. Hobson qualified on Monday before City Clerk August, and gave the required bond of $5,000. He was nominated at a preferential primary held on April 4, and was elected to the Administrative Board for the unexpired term of Robert Whittey, Jr.

It was announced yesterday that Dr. Charles W. Kent, chairman of the State executive committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, has been elected to the international committee of this same organization. Simultaneous with the announcement in the statement that Homer L. Ferguson, president of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, has also been chosen a member of the international committee.

The work of Dr. Kent as chairman of the State executive committee is well known. Under his management the work of the association has grown throughout the State. In fact, an officer of the Young Men's Christian Association stated yesterday afternoon that under his capable leadership the work had quadrupled. It was no surprise that he has been chosen as a member of this important body.

While not so well known in Richmond in Young Men's Christian Association circles, Mr. Ferguson has also been doing excellent work in the Young Men's Christian Association, and those officials of the association who knew of his activities stated that it came as no surprise that he was also chosen as a member of this important body.
